TRAFFIC TOLL IN FEBRUARY ABOVE '59 RATE

Twenty-six persons were injured, none fatally, in 27 auto accidents investigated by state police from the local substation during February, according to the recapitulation of activities of the state police for the month completed by Sgt. Robert Smith.

The number compares to 19 injured, none fatally, in 23 accidents investigated during February, 1959. While property damage was estimated at $20,705 during February, the damage during the comparable month a year ago was $17,607.

During February the officers made 87 arrests on traffic charges, halted 33 vehicles to inspect equipment and issued cards directing the owners to have certain repairs made, issued warnings to 89 motorists, gave assistance to 22 motorists and also made 20 arrests on criminal charges as a result of 13 investigations.

Fewer Crashes, More Injured

During the first two months of this year, there have been 45 accidents in which one person was killed, 45 hurt and damage totaled $34,105. The tally does not include the accident Tuesday, March 1, in which two were killed. In the first two months of 1959 there were 48 accidents in which one person was killed, 36 injured and damage was $36,032.

Last month the local state policemen spent 685 hours on criminal investigations, 1,273 hours on traffic duty, 78 hours in court, 1,184 hours on station work and 65 hours on special assignments.

They traveled 7,716 miles on criminal investigations and 18,900 miles on traffic duty. One stolen car was discovered along with $940.23 in other property.

FIRE FIGHTING FILM SHOWN TO CLUB MEMBERS

"Call the fire company as soon as you discover a fire — don't wait," Adams County Fire Marshal John Murren told the Gettysburg Exchange Club at its meeting Tuesday evening in the Lamp Post Tea Room.

Murren said that "seven minutes can mean the difference between a fire that can quickly be brought under control and a fire that can do great damage. The volunteer firemen are willing to go anywhere, anytime, to help save lives and property and they prefer to catch a blaze quickly so it can be extinguished without serious damage."

Firemen Are Guests

Murren said that Adams County in general is well equipped with equipment to fight any type of fire that may develop. He introduced Irvin Houck, Hanover, who showed a film entitled "Why?" based on fire fighting throughout the United States.

Guests of the club were the Gettysburg Fire Chief Frank Linn and Assistant Robert Hartman and Donald Myers. Gilbert Lupp was an additional guest.

A business meeting will be held next Tuesday evening President Neth said, when the nominating committee will present names for club officers.

Filibusters Stop Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sputtered along on a couple of legislative cylinders today. Its committee power plant short-circuited by a filibuster.

Instead of the dozen or more committees which regularly handle hearings, bills and investigations daily, only three groups scheduled meetings as the non-stop Senate sessions on civil rights continued.

Southerners, who head 10 of the Senate's 16 major standing committees, have seen to it that none of them does any work while the filibuster is going on.

That means delays in consideration of legislation involving space, farm, military, banking, finance, foreign relations, government operations, judicial, labor and post office matters.

Because the rules bar most committee sessions while the Senate itself is meeting, the Southerners have been successful in closing down nearly all except the appropriations subcommittees.

ADVISORY BD. PLANNED FOR COUNTY HOME

The Adams County commissioners are planning an advisory board for the county home similar to the one which serves the Adams County Child Welfare Services.

At their meeting today in the courthouse the commissioners announced plans to meet with the present County Home Advisory Committee at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the courthouse.

The commissioners will ask the committee, comprising Dr. C. G. Crist, A. W. Butterfield, Mrs. E. A. Deily, George Steinberger, Lee M. Hartman, Mrs. Carl Baumgardner, Attorney J. Francis Yake Jr., Mrs. John S. Rice and Attorney Donald Oyster to serve as the new permanent advisory board.

Plan 3-Year Terms

If they accept, three will be named to one-year terms, three to two-year terms and three to three-year terms to set up a revolving board. After the first appointments, all terms will be for three years.

The committee was originally set up to study what should be done about the county home and complete its work with the recommendations that led to the present plans to construct a new county home and sell off the county farm land.

TELLS LEAGUE OF SABBATICAL LEAVE ABROAD

Dr. Norman E. Richardson, head of the philosophy department of Gettysburg College, discussed his recent sabbatical leave which took him throughout Europe and to England, at a meeting of the Gettysburg subleague of the Woman's League of Gettysburg College Tuesday afternoon in the Student Union Building.

He explained the purpose of the leave as "an opportunity for the teacher to catch up on what goes on in his field. It has secondary reasons also, in giving the teacher a chance to broaden himself in seeing other cultures so that he can have a broader fund of knowledge to draw from in his teaching, and it gives him an opportunity to spread the name of the college."

In Europe the Richardson family, Dr. and Mrs. Richardson and three children, traveled by car and camped. Dr. Richardson expressed the view that camping is the best way to see Europe since it is the way many Europeans travel and affords a greater opportunity to meet people. They toured Germany, Austria, Italy and France and saw many interesting places they never would have visited on a conducted tour.

Visits Oxford

Following their tour they went to Oxford, "the center of philosophy in England." It "offered a chance to sit in on classes and graduate seminars led by the top men in the field and to meet those doing creative work in philosophy," he said. "The Oxford philosophy is concerned with language in an attempt to analyze and find meaning in languages. It is an attempt to find an area in which philosophy can establish and make real contributions to thought in terms of the meaning of language."

Dr. Richardson did not find himself in entire agreement with the Oxford philosophy but said he feels that "students should know the constructive and destructive elements of this philosophy before they leave college."

Cashtown Lions Get Charter

Cashtown Community Lions Club Is Presented Charter At Dinner-Meeting Tuesday

"Clubs make cities, cities make states and states make our nation great," said Cashtown Community Lions Club President Stanley Sharrar in an address to nearly 200 Lions, their ladies and guests at a dinner-meeting in the Cashtown community hall Tuesday evening, who were assembled for the presentation of charters from Lions International and the Pennsylvania Lions.

The Lions International charter was presented to Sharrar by Paul A. Corcelius, district governor. In making the presentation, Corcelius outlined a five-point program for the newly organized Cashtown club that was sponsored by the Fairfield Lions. He stressed the need for effective club administration, community projects, selling Lionism, community betterment and sight conservation on which Lionism was founded.

Sharrar said: "Modestly do we hope, that some day it may be said of Cashtown that it is a better place in which to live, work and play by virtue of its Lions Club."

Quoting Marcus Aurelius, Sharrar said: "Success is no trifling thing."

HAUPT WAS TOP WAR ENGINEER, DARRAH SAYS

The life of Herman Haupt, one-time Gettysburg College professor, who became one of the nation's top railroad engineers, was reviewed Tuesday evening by William C. Darrah, of the Gettysburg College faculty, for the Adams County Historical Society at its meeting in the Court House.

A picture of Haupt's temporary bridge over the Potomac which won fame from comments of President Lincoln that "that man Haupt has built a bridge over which trains are running and there's nothing in it but bean poles and cornstalks," was shown to the society. Haupt used untrained men and green lumber and built the bridge in nine days to replace one destroyed by Confederate forces.

Born in Philadelphia, Haupt entered West Point at the age of 14, graduating in the same class as General George C. Meade, who was to be Union commander at Gettysburg.

Trained W. W. Wright

He resigned his commission as an army officer to become an engineer for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania which was in process of building railroads. He was less than 20 years old when he came to Gettysburg and made it his center of operations. In addition to continuing as a railroad engineer, he also established the Oak Ridge Academy in his home on Springs Ave. and became a (Continued On Page 3)

Morocco Quake Toll Will Exceed 3,000; More Than 5,000 Reported Injured

By STEPHEN O. HUGHES

AGADIR, Morocco (AP) — Stunned survivors streamed from earthquake-ravaged Agadir today. A Red Cross official estimated the toll at more than 3,000 dead and more than 5,000 injured.

The grim casualty prediction—2,000 more dead than the initial Moroccan government estimate—was made by Dr. Albert A. Rainhard, who flew to Agadir from International Red Cross headquarters in Geneva. The U. S. Air Force, making these estimates public, said they were conservative.

Pleading cries rose from the rubble of Agadir, and rescue workers probed the ruins for untrapped survivors and bodies.

A massive airlift was in progress, carrying the injured northward to hospitals in other African cities.

Garage Is Damaged By Morning Blaze

Fire destroyed the roof and a portion of the interior of a garage on the property of Charles McDannell, Gettysburg R. 5, this morning at 8:45 o'clock. A group of workmen nearby kept the fire confined to the garage by organizing a "bucket brigade" until Gettysburg firemen arrived.

The blaze apparently began in the concrete and wood structure as the result of burning trash. Mrs. McDannell said a stove in the garage was used for this purpose daily. She said a small amount of waste paper had been placed in the stove this morning and left unattended.

Also damaged was a quantity of lumber stored in the rafters of the garage, tools and various other stored items. There was no immediate estimate of the damage.

There will be a collection made of used candles at the Friday service and the candles will be sent to school children in Korea. The day's offering will go for needy in the Fiji Islands, China, India, Pakistan, Central Africa and the American Indians with a special opportunity to be given persons attending the service to make donations toward the work among migrant laborers in this country.

President In Montevideo On Last Stop Of 4-Nation Tour

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Police used tear gas and high pressure fire hoses today to break up a student demonstration against President Eisenhower shortly after his arrival from Chile.

An undetermined number of persons were injured. The incident took place as Eisenhower's motorcade passed the School of Architecture of the University of Montevideo on the way from the airport.

In another part of the city, at the headquarters of the university itself, students barricaded themselves inside the buildings. Army trucks armed with light field artillery and heavy machine guns moved in to the block in front of the university.

By STANFORD BRADSHAW

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—President Eisenhower flew into Uruguay today on the last stop of his four-nation South American tour.

He was greeted warmly by Benito Nardone, president of the National Council, and praised for his "crusade of friendship."

"America is departing from the cold outline on the map to become the broad conscience of a common ideal and an harmonic union," the Uruguayan leader said at Carrasco Airport, where Eisenhower arrived from Santiago, Chile.

"Faith In Neighbor"

"There has befallen to you," Nardone continued, "the high mission of bringing about an identity among the peoples that were born in the same century of liberty and independence and who, as each attained their dream, has had that dream perpetuated by faith in their neighbor."

The President's public appearances in Montevideo were expected to attract the enthusiastic crowds that turned out at his earlier stops. But a reinforced police guard was ordered to one point on the route of Eisenhower's motorcade through the Uruguayan capital, the National University, where Vice President Richard M. Nixon ran into student jeers and catcalls on his visit two years ago.

Despite the precautionary guard, no such reception was expected for the President. "Gov. Brown solved most of our problems," U.S. Ambassador Robert Woodward told a reporter, referring to the 60-day reprieve Gov. Edmund Brown of California gave condemned kidnaper Caryl Chessman. Woodward had advised the State Department Chessman's execution might provoke anti-Eisenhower demonstrations.

To Address Congress

Eisenhower's program also included a visit to the ruling nine- (Continued On Page 2)

CLUB HEARS ILLUSTRATED TALK ON CHINA

Mr. and Mrs. H. Milton Wagner, R. 2, gave an illustrated lecture on agriculture in China at a meeting of the Upper Adams Lions Club Tuesday evening in the Biglerville School cafeteria.

Mrs. Wagner narrated while Mr. Wagner showed colored slides taken by Dr. Walter Laudermilk who spent a number of years in northwest China studying a soil conservation program for the Chinese.

"Certain soil conservation practices, such as ditches and contours, have been used by the Chinese for a number of centuries. In spite of this, there is still a constant struggle to survive because of the shortage of productive farmland. Every inch of land must be used and because of the rough terrain erosion is still a problem with much top soil being washed down the river valleys. There is no substitute for food among the oriental nations and erosion is a constant enemy of man in Asia," Mrs. Wagner said.

Were Missionaries
Mr. and Mrs. Wagner served as missionaries for the YMCA in China from 1916 to 1926. They also served a year with the American Friends Service in Tokyo, Japan.

Roy Starner, president, named the following nominating committee: S. A. Ehlman, Ralph Eckerd, and Clair Shillito. The next meeting will be held Tuesday evening, March 15, at Gettysburg College. Members will tour the SUB at 6:15 p.m. A film "Image of Gettysburg" will be shown. Invitations have been extended to other Lions Clubs in Adams County to visit with the Upper Adams club at this meeting. Arrangements are being made by the publicity committee.

The club will conduct a discussion period on the community swimming pool project April 5 when committees will report.

Guests at the dinner included members of the Aspers Fire Co.: Robert Eisenhart, Harry Gulden, Albert Kuhn, Clayton Starner, James Bucher, Edwin Motter, Albert Hoffman and Roy Starner. The evening program was under the direction of the agriculture committee comprising Donald Boyer, chairman, Richard Trostel and Dale Knouse.

member Council of Government headed by Benito Nardone, a speech to a joint session of the Uruguayan Congress, and a dinner given by President Nardone.

Eisenhower leaves Montevideo Thursday morning for Puerto Rico and two days of rest before returning to Washington.

The briefness of the stay in Uruguay will prevent extensive talks with Uruguayan officials, but one subject that is likely to come up is Chilean President Jorge Alessandri's proposal for a conference on arms reduction in Latin America.

Is Demilitarized
Uruguay, a nation already practically demilitarized, has been suggested as the site for a meeting of South American countries, and June or July have been proposed as good dates.

Toasting Alessandri at a farewell dinner in Santiago Tuesday night, Eisenhower said the Chilean leader's views on disarmament "must command the attention and respect of every thoughtful citizen in the hemisphere."

Eisenhower had told the Chilean Congress earlier that his government is prepared to cooperate "in any practical steps that may be initiated by the government of Chile or any of her neighbors to reduce expenditures on armaments."

received the burn because he was lying against a section of the hot motor of the car that had been driven back under the auto by the impact of the collision.

Protected By Clothing

The burn, about the size of a 50-cent piece, was on the inside of the boy's leg. The child, a good-sized youngster for his age, was fully dressed and his heavy clothing was credited with having protected him from more serious burns.

Where the Ohlers were going was unknown. There seemed little today to bear out a theory advanced Tuesday that the child had been burned accidentally at home and was being rushed to the hospital here by frantic parents.

Except for some indications that the Ohlers may have left their home several miles east of Emmitsburg in some haste, there was nothing to indicate any emergency. A neighbor noticed their departure at "an unusual time" and they seemed to be in a hurry.

Mr. Ohler's father, Chester, who was about the farm buildings at the time "assumed" they were going to Waynesboro but knows nothing definite of their mission.

Was "Careful Driver"

Clyde Ohler, known as a careful driver who never drove over 35 or 40 miles an hour, was reported to have been going about 50 miles an hour at the top of the hill before the car hit the bridge wall.

Mr. Ohler is survived only by his father and son. His mother, the former Maude Mill, is deceased.

Mrs. Ohler, native of Waynesboro, was a daughter of the late Erwin Newcomer and Mrs. Mary Welty Newcomer, Waynesboro. These brothers and sisters survive: Mrs. Marshall Mentzer, Waynesboro R. 2; Emory Newcomer, Zullinger; Martin Newcomer, Waynesboro R. 2; Mrs. Robert Fry, Ligonier; James Newman, Waynesboro R. 2; Mrs. Robert Perry, San Diego, Calif.; Mrs. Ferdinand Betts, Waynesboro, and Roy Newcomer, Waynesboro R. 2.

The Ohlers were married August 2, 1937.

"MY STAR"

To me, you are a brilliant star . . . outstanding all the rest . . . when you came into being, love . . . celestial realms were blessed . . . for one warm smile from your dear lips . . . lights up my life with cheer . . . though other stars smile sweetly . . . their beams are not sincere . . . in effort to define the glow . . . in your enchanting eyes . . . I must confess they put to shame . . . all other starlit skies . . . shine on, oh lovely star of mine . . . fill me with tenderness . . . my heart reaches the mellow moon . . . locked in your caress . . . with each succeeding year it seems . . . you sparkle more and more . . . to me you are a brilliant star . . . I always will adore.

One of his students at Oak Ridge Academy, William Wierman Wright of York Springs, later became Haupt's principal assistant during the Civil War when General Haupt had control of all railroads for the Union forces.

As professor of civil engineering and architecture at Gettysburg College, he designed the Linnaean Hall which was built largely by students, who even made and baked the bricks for the structure, setting up a kiln along the Tiber.

Known As Authority

Professor Darrah displayed a copy of the publication put out by the Linnaean Society composed of Gettysburg College students and adults of Gettysburg. He quoted from an article in which Haupt described how zoological specimens of scientific interest were to be prepared, and told the students that they could provide the finest museum in the country if they took sufficient time to make proper specimens for it. He also advised that such work was to be done at such Haupt became interested in methods of determining stress in relation to railroad bridges and found no one had done any work in the subject. He carried on experiments here and worked out mathematical formula which led to his patenting an "Improved Truss Bridge" which became the principal design for railroad bridges for many years. The last such bridge washed out in 1951.

He described the bridge building techniques in a book "Hints on Bridge Construction" printed in 1841 while residing here. His book on "General Theory of Bridge Construction" was written while he was at Gettysburg, but he could not secure a printer until 1851. It became the text for bridge engineers for the next quarter century.

Build Hoosac Tunnel
He married the daughter of the pastor of St. James Lutheran Church here and most of their 11 children were born here.

Haupt left Gettysburg to become chief engineer of the Pennsylvania Railroad and his "Rules and Regulations of the Pennsylvania Railroad" were described as the model for railroad operation.

He constructed the Hoosac Tunnel still being used for east-west traffic in the New England States, and was engineer for numerous railroads and many other companies.

Cut Tape, Made Enemies
Darrah described Haupt as a "man who cut red tape and made many enemies. Haupt's method was to determine who was boss. If he was boss then rank, wealth or position of others meant nothing to him. He was interested only in getting the job done as quickly as possible."

Darrah quoted from various messages Haupt sent General Halleck, which stated specifically how many hours it would take to complete specific tasks, how soon running and what quantity of supplies could be sent over the re-

Doris Kurzenknecht r a m m e d through 32 points to lead the Gettysburg College girls' basketball team to a 71-36 victory over Elizabethtown Tuesday evening on the loser's floor.

The Bullettes, heading for their best season in several years, are now 9-1, losing only to Ursinus. Lynn Brown was second top scorer for Nancy Kelly's squad with 16 counters.

The Bullettes' junior varsity ran into trouble in the second game as Elizabethtown JV's took a 61-38 decision.

A number of the telegrams read by Darrah pertained to Haupt's work in providing rail transportation to Gettysburg in connection with the battle here. The Confederates had destroyed bridges. Haupt had the railroad back in operation within a few days after the battle ended.

To Visit Bridges

President Clarence D. Dearthoff presided at the meeting. Plans were outlined for a committee headed by Frank Newcomer to send letters to potential members. Arthur Weaner reported that the 800-page book on the Conrad Wiser family is near completion.

Dr. W. E. Tilberg reported on investigations made by his committee on covered bridges. He tour in May to various covered bridges, "to let the members see the bridges for themselves and make a decision on which should be preserved."

Uncover Intimate Facts Of Burning Of McLean House By Confederates, July 1, 1863: The home which the Confederate soldiers burned to the ground was that of the Rev. C. G. McLean, pastor of the Gettysburg Presbyterian Church, and stood on an eminence just west of Willoughby Run or what is now known as the old Springs Hotel farm.

Melchoir Sheads, secretary of the Adams County Historical Society, with the assistance of historians in the office of Dr. Robert Lee Jones, historical technician at the Gettysburg National Park office, investigated rumors here and elsewhere, as well as newspaper files published in Gettysburg at the time and compiled the following account of the burning of the McLean home: "Miss Amelia E. Harmon, daughter of R. T. Harmon, a subaltern officer of a Pennsylvania regiment in General Grant's army, lived with her relatives in the best dwelling house in the country the ruins of which are visible from Seminary Ridge, about a mile west of Gettysburg. She was a young girl of 17 years. "During the charges of Buford's cavalry, which commenced the battle, this house was forcibly occupied by the Federal sharpshooters from which to fire upon the Rebels. "On the repulse of the Union

Today's Talk

THE WILL TO DO
We have a kind providence to thank for planting within us the will to do—and the desire to see that it goes out with that desire. If we put into practice this will to do the chances are that we shall become self-inspired, which is always a sign of success. We must, however, keep this desire forever burning within us. We must learn to cultivate this desire, for it is of the greatest importance in the building of character. People decide upon things to do because they have that will to do desire always in the background as their great support. Each one of us must decide as to what our destiny shall be. The more we realize our potentialities the more does that will to do grow as a valuable support throughout life. If we have no desire the will to do amounts to little, or nothing at all. If you want to be a somebody of note, do what is useful and distinguished. Earn the will to do, as others have!

What better heritage than faith? Faith in ourselves, faith in God and our fellow man, faith in a happy future, faith that is escorted by a will to do, and secured by it. God is always around! Contact Him often!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Your Bearing" Protected, 1960, by The George Matthews Adams Service

Just Folks

A CREED
This is my creed: to be brave as I fare,
Nor whimper and whine at the burdens I bear;
To stand in the rough and be patient and true,
Believing, in time, I shall work my way through.
To look for my joy in the fruits of my labor,
To dwell in contentment and peace with my neighbor,
To strive for the richest of prizes, and yet
To earn, all alone, what rewards I may get.
To think more of others as onward I tread,
To cause no one pain by a word I have said;
For those who are near me to do all I can;
No matter my station, to be just a man.

cavalry, the Rebels announced their intention of burning the building in accordance with the laws of war . . . it having been used (they said) as a fort. "The family of the young lady protested explaining that the occupation by Federal soldiers had been forcible, and not with their consent, the young lady adding that her mother, who was not now living, was a Southern woman, and that she would blush for her parentage if Southern men could thus fire the house of defenseless females, and then turn them out in the midst of battle. "One of the men then approached her and proposed, in a confidential manner, that, if she would prove that she was not a renegade Southerner by hurrahing for the Southern Confederacy, he would see what could be done. The young heroine indignantly refused and, abandoning her burning home with her aunt, ran the gauntlet of fire of two armies."

MISS MOBLEY LOSES JOB IN CBS TV SHOW

NEW YORK (AP)—Show business rapped Mary Ann Mobley in her pretty white teeth, but she is still game, and smiling the smile that helped her win the 1959 Miss America title.

Her first job—and what seemed a promising start to a Broadway career—was yanked from under her without explanation Friday.

She was told she was through singing on the CBS TV show "Be Our Guest" where she has been appearing Wednesday evenings since January. George DeWitt, who me's the show, didn't want her, said producer Perry Cross.

Neither DeWitt nor Cross would comment on Miss Mobley's firing.

Surprised But Determined
"I was rather surprised," the soft-spoken brown-eyed beauty who put Brandon, Miss., on the map, acknowledged Tuesday Her $400 a week contract runs till April, but money is no consolation to a girl whose eyes are fixed on the Great White Way.

Miss Mobley, 23, is the first to admit she's got a lot to learn and a long way to go, but "I'm determined and I'm willing to work," she said in an interview.

The scholarship she won with her Miss America title provides dramatic, singing and dancing lessons. She is going to study harder than ever.

CONVICTION OF 4 BRINGS RIOT

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Fourteen teen-age boys charged with rioting after a football game nearly touched off another riot Monday when they were convicted.

Police cleared the court as some 100 spectators joined the youths in shouting protests.

The jury of eight women and three men was escorted from the court house. The twelfth juror had been excused after suffering a heart attack.

The youths, students at Norristown High School, were accused of roughing up Ridley Township High School students Sept. 25 as they boarded buses to go home. The Ridley team had beaten Norristown 24-19.

Sentencing was scheduled for Friday. Bail for each of the boys was increased from $1,000 to $2,000.

Judge E. Arnold Forrest also directed an innocent verdict for Robert Williams, 15, saying there was too little evidence against him.

Wards Off Five Robbery Attempts

IRVINGTON, N.J. (AP)—Any one who plans to rob Frank Gilfol's liquor store had better think twice and then change his mind. Gilfol put two bullets into a fleeing bandit who tried to hold up the store Tuesday night. There was a blood-stained trail for police to follow.

The robbers' score over the years: five attempts, not a cent stolen.

Gilfol's score: one bandit killed, two wounded and three disarmed. The 140-pound, bespectacled Gilfol keeps a gun and a club within reach behind the counter. He is 84 years old.

Ralph Lument, rookie pitcher with Washington, struck out 141 Sally League batters in 166 innings with Charlotte last season.

Steps From Bath To Face Bandit

NEW YORK (AP)—Margaret Wortsman, 41, stepped out of her bathtub Monday to find herself face-to-face with a blushing bandit.

"You go and put something decent on so I can tie you up and take your money," the embarrassed young man told her politely.

He courteously turned his head while Mrs. Wortsman slipped into a house coat. Then he gingerly tied her hands and feet with venetian blind cord. He ransacked the apartment, took $300 in cash and $1,000 in jewels and fled.

Mrs. Wortsman said she had left the apartment door unlocked so she wouldn't have to leave her tub to let her young daughters in when they arrived from school.

Senators Report Office Payrolls

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania's two senators report their office payrolls each total a little over $130,000 a year.

The roster of employees and pay scales was made public Monday as required by the Senate.

Sen. Hugh Scott has a $134,090 payroll and Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D) $132,927. Scott has 22 employees and Clark 23.

Clark paid James L. Sundquist, his administrative assistant, $16,300 a year—the most he is allowed. Scott listed his administrative assistant, William G. Murphy, at a salary of $14,554 a year.

CHESSMAN MAKES OFFER

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Caryl Chessman's offer to die in the gas chamber brought a dramatic new element today into California's gathering legislative battle over capital punishment.

The convict-author wrote Gov. Edmund G. Brown he is willing to end his fight for life if the California Legislature will vote to abolish the death penalty for everybody else.

"I offer . . . my life," said the convict who was condemned in 1948 as a perverted sex-kidnap. "I give my solemn word before the world that I will never challenge such a law in the courts and I will disavow any attempt by any attorney purporting to act in my behalf."

For almost 12 of his 38 years, Chessman has fought to escape the gas chamber. But now, he told the governor, if his death will ease the way to the abolition of capital punishment, he is willing to die.

EX-NEWSMAN DIES

CHICAGO (AP)—Walter Yust, 65, former newspaperman and editor in chief of all Encyclopedia Britannica publications from 1938 until his retirement 10 days ago, died Monday night, apparently of a heart attack. Yust, who also had written short stories, died in his suburban Evanston home.

Bullets Lace Diplomats; Frosh Win 5th Straight; Meet Mules On Thursday

Four Gettysburg College cagers hit in double figures as the Bullets tucked away their 15th win of the season by drubbing Franklin and Marshall, 93-67, Tuesday evening in the Eddie Plank gym before 900 fans in the final home game of the season.

Ron Warner, who has already broken the record for the most points scored in one season, was top man with 23 points, while brother John netted 19. Bill Fitzkee landed 16 and Bob Parker chipped in with 13 tallies. Jim Weinstein, Diplomat ace, scored 24 points while teammate Bob Baron tallied 15.

The star of the game, not because he was high scorer or top rebounder, but in the eyes of the fans, was John Warner. Warner is the only senior on the team and was the only returning letterman when the schedule got underway. Coach Bob Hulton started Warner in place of George Burnett. He was also chosen captain for the game. When the 23-year-old cager left the contest with two minutes remaining in the final period, he received a long and tremendous ovation from the fans.

Warner Carry Attack

During the first five minutes of Tuesday's contest, it was the Warners vs. Baron, Betrone and Weinstein. Ron and John connected on corner jump shots, layups and foul shots to put the Bullets in lead 12-7. At the 14:46 mark Bill Fitzkee broke into the scoring with one of two fouls. With 6:27 remaining in the half, Baron and Weinstein carried the load for the Diplomats and brought them to within three points of the home team as Gettysburg led 27-24.

The Hultons then began to regain their stride at 5:44 and netted 14 straight points before Weinstein landed from the right side and Baron added a foul. At intermission the Bullets led 41-27. Bob Baron opened the second half of play on a push shot from the foul circle. Ron Warner came back at 19:23 with a jump and Bill Fitzkee connected on three straight jumps while Parker followed with another two-pointer from the right side.

Gettysburg led 53-31 with 16:16 remaining in the game. At this point in the contest Bob Baron, the visitors' top scorer, received a technical foul and was tossed out of the game and the cagers from Lancaster were never able to regain their stride.

During several stages of the contest play moved quickly on poor shooting, quick rebounds and fast breaks, but it took play-makers like Bob Parker and John Betrone to slow down the pace and set up plays for their respective teams.

The Bullets climbed back up the ladder in field goal percentage as they dunked 38 of 74 shots for .514. F. and M. landed .333 per cent. Bill Fitzkee grabbed 16 rebounds while Jim Weinstein carried off 12.

Avenge Setback

The Gettysburg freshmen, rebounding from a poor first half season, avenged an earlier setback at the hands of the Diplomat frosh and rolled to a 71-65 win in the preliminary contest. The win marked the fifth in a row for Coach Howard Shoemaker's yearlings. The Little Bullets, after dropping eight of their first nine games, are now 6-8 on the season.

During three-quarters of the encounter the teams matched each other shot for shot and the score was knotted on several occasions. Bob Ryan was top scorer with 20 points while Ted Koerner landed 13 and George Burke 12. Jim Leslie paced the losers with 18.

Both Gettysburg teams will travel to Allentown to take on Muhlenberg Thursday evening.

The varsity will be playing its final game of the season while the freshmen have one game left. They will meet Hill School in Pottstown Saturday afternoon.

Playoff Berth Up To Lakers, Royals

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

With the top three playoff spots in the National Basketball Assn.'s Eastern Division and the first two in the Western sewn up, Minneapolis Lakers and Cincinnati Royals now go about the business of settling the last playoff berth.

Neither the Lakers, in third place, nor the Royals, in fourth, could gain an advantage Tuesday night. Detroit beat Cincinnati 106-106 and St. Louis won over Minneapolis 109-101 in a doubleheader at St. Louis.

The Royals have only three games left and trail the Lakers by 3½. But Minneapolis still has six to play and could blow its playoff chances. The two clubs play each other twice more this year.

In Tuesday night's other game, New York lost its eighth straight, 124-121 to Syracuse.

BIG TEN IS PROBABLY OUT OF ROSE BOWL

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten will not enter another Rose Bowl agreement unless some last-minute vote switching is done at the conference's business meeting in Columbus this weekend.

This was virtually assured Tuesday when Northwestern announced it will vote against participation.

Northwestern's stand leaves the league deadlocked 5-5 in a matter which needs at least a 6-4 majority to be carried. Others who are against the postseason game are Minnesota, Ohio State, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Michigan, Michigan State, Purdue, Iowa and Indiana are in favor of another contract.

However, defeating the proposal to continue in the Pasadena classic does not necessarily mean Big Ten teams cannot compete in the Rose Bowl.

There is a clause which allows a team to accept a bid to the Rose Bowl on an individual basis. And to strike out the clause, a 6-4 vote is needed.

The tournament of Roses has a contract with the Athletic Assn. of Western Universities which provides for the association to come up with a means of selecting an Eastern opponent. The AAWU is to announce a plan for choosing an Eastern opponent by March 31.

NEW SYSTEM FOR TRAFFIC VIOLATORS IN FORCE IN PA.

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania put into effect Tuesday a revised system of penalties for traffic violations.

It divides violations into two classes—"A" and "B"—depending on the seriousness of the offense and provides for suspension of operators' licenses.

The new system is rougher on speeding and several other serious (Class A) violations but is generally milder for less serious (Class B) offenses than the suspension plan put into effect by former Gov. George Leader.

"Our Target"

"We have no intention of harassing drivers who operate within the spirit of the motor vehicle code," Gov. Lawrence said in a statement Monday night. He added:

"Our target is removal from the highways and streets of Pennsylvania that small percentage of the drivers who are responsible for the majority of accidents.

"We are going after the habitual offender, the irresponsible driver. These individuals face longer loss of license under our new system."

The new system deals more harshly with some first-time speeding violations and with repeated offenders.

May Require Tests

Any motorist with two Class A violations in one year will be required to take a new driver's test. Nine violations, regardless of class, will result in an additional one-year suspension tacked on to whatever penalties may be applied.

Class B violations include such common traffic offenses as passing a stop sign, improper passing and improper signaling.

Part Of New Program

Inauguration of the new system of suspensions will not mean a fresh start for past violators.

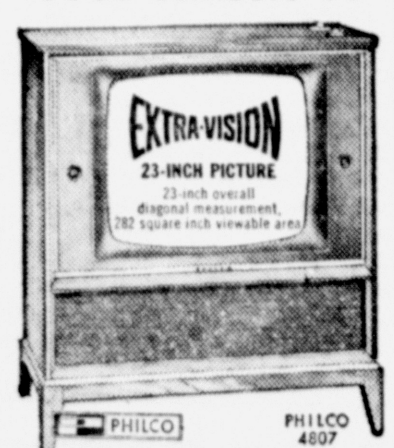

The state won't make a search of the files, but old violations will be reclassified under the new system when additional offenses bring previous records to light.

The new penalties are only part of a multi-phased highway safety program announced by Lawrence Feb. 2.

The other principal feature, physical examinations of drivers, is still in the works. So is the "educational" use of radar whereby state police will check speeders with radar but only issue them a warning (radar evidence cannot legally be used to convict for speeding).

Saturn Rocket Engine Is Ready

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Saturn rocket engine is almost ready for its first ground test.

Milton Rosen, chief of rocket vehicle development programs of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Monday the goal of a full-scale Saturn firing by the end of 1959 had not been achieved, "but we are very close to it now."

Each Saturn is made up of a cluster of eight rocketdyke engines. It would be capable of landing large payloads on the moon or nearby planets, placing a heavy communications satellite in orbit, or putting a manned vehicle weighing 10 to 20 tons into orbit 200 to 300 miles above the earth.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Census Bureau estimated the nation's population at 179,690,856 as of 8 a.m. EST Tuesday. This was the calculation made for the bureau's census clock, a counting device installed in the Commerce Department lobby.

EX-GOVERNOR HAS RETURNED TO PA. FARM

YORK, Pa. (AP)—George M. Leader, whose political star faded after his defeat for U. S. senator, is doing much the same things he did before becoming Pennsylvania's second youngest governor in 1954.

He operates a farm near Dover, six miles northwest of York, engages in civic activities and keeps an occasional speaking date.

His chief new interest is a vice presidency in a firm specializing in commercial loan development and industrial plant location. As governor, Leader gained much experience in these fields.

Leader turned over the governor's chair to David L. Lawrence early last year after losing a bid for the U. S. Senate.

His present interests keep him active in fields close to politics but Leader denies this is an indication of his future plans.

"These were my interests before I was governor," he says. "Your interests do not change because you lose an election. I am doing much the same thing that I always did."

Before becoming governor, Leader, now 42, produced chicks for egg and poultry raisers on a farm about six miles from his present 109-acre spread.

Live In Old House

He no longer breeds chicks. The new farm, managed by Bob Gohn, produces various crops and grasses.

Leader, his wife, Mary Jane, and their four children, ranging in age from 17 months to 14 years, live at the farm in a stone home built in 1775.

The Leaders bought and remodeled the place in 1958. Stripping away all the do-dads that had been added to the structure over the years, they returned the house to its original simple lines.

To one side of the home is a smaller modern structure, which houses both Gohn and Leader's business office. The office shelves are filled with financial statistics and industrial catalogues and brochures.

SENATE KEEPS LONG SESSIONS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, in a dawn test, voted 55-6 Tuesday to continue indefinitely the around-the-clock session on civil rights.

The vote came shortly after 6:30 a. m. after the Senate had been in session 18½ hours in a drive by the leadership to break the deadlock over the rights legislation.

Both Democratic and Republican leaders are supporting plans duties as an official of the W. A. Clark Mortgage Co.

He has signed with the Jewish National Fund, along with former Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland, for a series of speeches throughout the country in the interests of fund raising.

He also heads the Cancer Crusade of Pennsylvania; is on the board of Pennsylvania Mental Health; and is on the board of Lincoln University at Oxford, Pa., the oldest Negro university in the country.

to keep the Senate in session night and day this week without any recess in an effort to bring a civil rights bill to a decision.

The 55-6 vote defeated a motion by Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) to adjourn the Senate at 8 p. m.

Morse announced he was offering the motion to test sentiment on whether the around-the-clock session should continue.

Only six Southern Democrats supported the motion. It was opposed by Democrats.

Air Force Muddles Through To World's "Snafu" Crown

By ARTHUR EDSON
WASHINGTON (AP) — It has been a long, relentless, fuzzy fight, but the Air Force today finally owns the snafu (situation normal) all fouled up! championship of the world.

This has taken considerable doing. The competition in this town is fierce.

But by steadily pounding away, by resolutely issuing instruction manuals on everything from communism in churches to how to run a successful bingo party, the Air Force steadily muddled ahead.

How It Clinched Title

It clinched its title by handling, or mishandling, these episodes so that it wound up:

1. Getting caught in the middle between two large church groups;
2. Attracting the interest of at least three congressional committees;
3. Bringing almost everyone in the Pentagon up to the secretary of defense into the act;
4. Focusing attention on what is primarily a sideshow at a time when a great and vital debate is going on in the main tent over whether this nation's defenses are strong enough.

Wandering Brought Trouble

Yet in all this to-do, some sobering, some hilarious, the manuals must be kept in perspective.

Around 2,000 such publications are put out by the Air Force, Army and Navy.

Most are routine; probably all but a few are noncontroversial.

The trouble began when the services wandered into other fields.

Mixing Martinis

Several congressmen, for example, think the services use manpower foolishly, and prove their case by pointing to manuals.

Rep. Frank Kowalski (D-Conn.) objects to using military men as servants. His textbook: "Open Mess Operational Manual," put out for Air Force officers assigned as secretaries of officers' or non-commissioned officers' club.

It included tips on how to mix five different martinis, on how to round up dates for bachelor officers, on how to furnish youngsters who finally eat their spinach and other essentials with "good eating certificates."

On Bathing Pats

This was preceded by a hearing before the manpower subcommittee of the Armed Services Committee at which another Air Force manual was studied.

It included tips to aides and stewards, once called orderlies or dogrobbers. The names have changed, the congressmen noted, but the instructions haven't.

"Occasionally pets require baths. The best way to accomplish this is by using soap, water and plenty of elbow grease."

"Shoe-polishing isn't a large task but does require some exacting effort."

When Roof Fell In

All this was embarrassing to the Air Force, but the roof really fell in after Paul Galanti, an Air Force reserve sergeant in Trenton, N.J., conscientiously did his homework.

Galanti, was reading a manual with this scarcely breath-taking title: "NR-45-0050, Increment V, Volume 7." He ran across some stuff about churches in it, and dutifully took it to his preacher.

"The only thing I asked was, 'Were the charges true?'" he said later.

Prompt Protests

Galanti was to find out there is no agreed answer to that question.

For the manual contained these sentences:

"It is known that even the pastors of certain of our churches are card-carrying Communists. The National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A. officially sponsored the revised standard version of the Bible. Of the 95 persons who served in this project, 30 have been affiliated with pro-Communist fronts, projects and publications."

A spokesman for the National Council promptly protested.

Protests On Withdrawal

The Air Force announced it would withdraw the manual.

Then another church group, made up mostly of fundamentalist denominations, complained about the withdrawal. So did Chairman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Walter said the manual is true. "If they had looked into it they would have found it correct," he said. "I hope the Air Force conducts its other affairs more intelligently."

At one time or another during the hubbub Air Force officials have been quoted as saying the manual would be withdrawn permanently, that it would be revised, that a part of it would be rewritten, that it would remain essentially as it is but the names of organizations would be deleted.

But the criticism wasn't exclusively with the discussion of the clergy.

No Benefits—Just Trouble

One passage dealt with secret information and said:

"A foolish remark often heard is that Americans have a right to know what's going on. Most people realize the foolishness of such a suggestion."

This came in for sharp criticism from Chairman John E. Moss (D-Calif.) of the special House Government Information subcommittee.

But in all the turmoil one statement—by Chairman Melvin Price (D-Ill.) of a House committee studying the whole business—goes unchallenged.

"The services aren't getting any benefit from these," Price said, "just trouble."
